Cancer Seminar for Women

Every seven minutes, an American woman is diagnosed with ovarian, cervical, uterine, or other form of reproductive cancer.

Those statistics are sobering. But they are also empowering.

Knowing the symptoms and risk factors allows you to take proactive control of your health. And that's the key to early detection and survival.

Karen Zempolich,
M.D.

So bring your mom, your sister, your daughter or your best friend, and join us for a FREE community seminar to learn more.

Dr. Karen Zempolich, gynecologic cancer specialist from the University of Utah, will be the speaker, and a light luncheon will be served. Please call 529-7147 today to reserve your place.
